The FDD shields are known for their extremely high quality, due to FDD's long experience in the production of LRP weaponry.

The shields are made out of a special foam, which is covered with latex and then provided with an authentic coloring. The elastic glossy varnish which is also used for all other FDD weapons is used as finish, protecting the shield from abrasion when maintained regularly.

This shield comes in a few handle grip versions. The size of the shield may vary. For the best possible maintenance of your shield we recommend using silicone spray.
